

DT Scheme of Assessment 2018

Level	You have ...
9.5	a very detailed understanding of a very wide range of materials and making processes. You can use designing and analysis in an iterative and highly innovative way. Your outcomes are desired by a wide range of people including your defined stakeholder.
8.5	a detailed understanding of a very wide range of materials and making processes. You can use designing and analysis in an iterative and highly original way. Your outcomes are wanted by your user.
7.5	a detailed understanding of a wide range of materials and making processes. You can use designing and analysis in an iterative and original way. Your outcomes are wanted by the user.
6.5	a very good knowledge of a wide range of materials and making processes. You can use research and analysis to change your designing in a progressive iterative way. Your work shows some original imaginative features that appeal to people.
5.5	a good knowledge of materials and making processes. You can use research to change your designing in an iterative way. Your work has some original creative features that appeal to people.
4.5	a sound knowledge of materials and making processes. Your iterative designing is sound. Your outcome has some original features that are aimed at a broad range of users.
3.5	some knowledge of materials and making processes. Your iterative designing is very simple with only a few original features. Your outcomes are clearly aimed at a small range of users.
2.5	a basic knowledge of materials and making processes. You can design simple products for a user.
1.5	a simplistic understanding of how to design and make products that appeal to people.
0.5	a primary understanding of how to design and make very simple products.